ABOUT ME

Design tells a story, and I believe that I'm a strong communicator both written and visually, in creating a narrative. My passion for creativity has been expressed in different media: photography, web design, branding, interior design and graphic design.

Great design dictates experiences and there is nothing more satisfying than creating a coherent and strong design aesthetic that transforms a product, business or idea. I have an abiding belief in my ability to create distinctive design concepts.

I understand that better design is achieved through teamwork. I relish collaborating in dynamic teams where ingenuity can be stretched to its utmost; practising the egalitarian approach to design thinking. I have a detailed delivery-focused approach whilst being self-motivated.
